

Google is proud to call Washington home

Creating economic opportunity in the Evergreen State

10+ years

Google has proudly called Washington home for more than a decade with offices in Seattle and Kirkland.

6,300+

Washingtonians are employed full-time at Google.

398K+ Washington businesses have connected directly with customers using Google—like TomboyX, Oiselle and PicMonkey in Seattle, Bramble Berry in Bellingham, and Combat Flip Flops in Bellevue.

$17.29B

of economic activity provided for 52,800 Washington businesses, nonprofits, publishers, creators, and developers in 2020.

Helping Washington businesses and job seekers

For years, Google has supported digital skilling programs that can help sustain small businesses and help people secure fast-growing, good-paying jobs. With so many U.S. workers displaced by the COVID-19 pandemic, these solutions are even more critical to economic recovery. Technology creates growth opportunities for American businesses and can help American workers develop the skills they need to succeed in the digital economy.

$180M

to support small business resilience

In collaboration with Opportunity Finance Network (OFN), Google made a $180M commitment to support underserved small businesses across the country through the Grow with Google Small Business Fund and Google.org Grants program. The fund delivers low-interest loans to community development financial institutions (CDFIs), such as Craft3 based in Seattle.

5,400+

Washingtonians enrolled in the Google IT Support Certificate program

Google is invested in expanding access to Google Career Certificates to help more people—particularly underserved—grow their careers. To date, the Google IT Support Certificate has been implemented through 100+ community colleges and dozens of career technical education sites. 5,400+ Washingtonians have enrolled in the program and 60% of people who take the Google IT Support Certificate course are Black, Latino, women, or veterans.

“We used to sit on Google Analytics and celebrate when one new customer came to our site. Now it helps us track, measure, and optimize for thousands of customers a day.”

Fran Dunaway
Co-founder & CEO of TomboyX
Seattle, Washington

Supporting Washington nonprofits and local organizations

We know that organizations are already doing great work in Washington. That’s why Google has partnered with trusted community institutions across the state to bring digital skills training, grant funding and other resources and services to more Washingtonians, including those historically underserved.

$19M+

in grants to nonprofits and organizations based in Washington

Google.org has awarded over $19M in grants to nonprofits and organizations based in Washington. This funding has helped organizations like the Goldendale School District in central Washington support distance learning for students on the Yakama Nation Indian Reservation. It has supported organizations like Plymouth Housing, Mary’s Place in Seattle, and the Carl Maxey Center in Spokane.

Since 2004, Google employees based in Washington—with matching contributions from Google—have donated over $91M in charitable giving to nonprofits including $300K+ to support the City of Kirkland Small Business COVID Relief Fund. Since 2008, Google employees in Washington have also served 108K+ hours of volunteer and pro bono work with local nonprofits and organizations.

$14.84M

in Google Ad Grants to Washington nonprofits

Through Google.org’s Fellowship Program, 13 Googlers are working full-time pro bono with the City of Seattle’s Office of Innovation to create a universal application streamlining access to services and benefits for people in need of government assistance. As a result, Mayor Jenny Durkan invited Google as the newest member of her Innovation Advisory Council.

Google for Nonprofits provides organizations across the U.S. with access to Google products and programs such as Google Workspace for Nonprofits, Google Ad Grants, YouTube, and Google Maps Platform. Since 2011, Google for Nonprofits has supported 5K+ nonprofits in Washington. In 2020, Google provided $14.84M in in-kind search advertising credit to Washington nonprofits through the Google Ad Grants program.

90K+

Washingtonians trained on critical digital skills

Grow with Google has partnered with 185K+ organizations in the state to train 90K+ Washingtonians on digital skills, including public libraries like the Fort Vancouver Regional Libraries and the San Juan Island Library, as well as and organizations like American Indian Education Fund and chambers of commerce like the Kittitas County Chamber.

