Helping Oklahoma businesses and job seekers

Technology provides economic opportunity for Americans—it helps business owners find new customers online (87% of businesses said that using digital tools to find customers was important) and workers develop skills for new career opportunities. Google is helping Oklahomans learn digital skills so they can reach new customers and find new job opportunities. In Oklahoma, Grow with Google has partnered with 97 organizations to train more than 108,000 Oklahomans on digital skills, including public libraries, chambers of commerce, community colleges, and more.

70,000

Google Career Certificate graduates in the U.S. 75% report a positive career impact within six months

The Google Career Certificates program provides online job training, available in English and with Spanish-language support, and prepares job seekers for careers in high-growth fields like data analytics and IT Support—with no degree or experience required. To help more people access this program, we've announced a new $100M Google Career Certificates Fund which will enable nonprofits to support tens of thousands of American workers. The Google Career Certificates are also free to all community colleges and career and technical education (CTE) high schools to add to their curriculum. There are 70,000 graduates in the U.S., with 75% reporting a positive career impact within six months of completion and 55% identifying as Asian, Black, or Latino.* Graduates can connect with over 150 employers through our employer consortium and receive career support resources like resume templates, interview prep, and coaching.

"Without Google Local Services Ads and the Google Guarantee, my business would have nowhere near the customer base we've developed in just a year and a half."
